The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claim 98 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by Marks.

Claims 66-97 are allowable in that although Marks teaches that cardiac output is important in anesthetized patients, it does not teach controlling anesthesia delivery based on an indication of cardiac output, as claimed. In addition, none of the remaining, as previously discussed, teaches using cardiac output to trigger delivery of anesthesia.
